To Whom It May Concern:

This letter is written of behalf of Selina Jackson who has presented three times at South Pointe Middle School. Initially, Selina presented to the staff and the topic of her presentation was student learning styles and how to match teaching strategies to those learning styles to maximize learning opportunities for students. She was very well received by the staff because of her knowledge and her sense of humor. She does use humor to convey her message and she uses it effectively.

On November 30, 2004 I invited Selina to present to a group of parents on the same topic. Again, she was very well received. I invited her one more time to present to another parent group, this time the parents of Title I students. I made available to each parent who attended a copy of her self published book, How To Help Your Child Get Better Grades Easier.

It is with considerable enthusiasm that I would recommend Selina Jackson to inservice staffs or parents on the subject of student learning styles. She is very knowledgeable and teachers and parents give her high praise for the quality of her presentations. I have used both SIP and TITLE I monies to compensate her and consider it money well spent.

Sincerely,

Roger Taylor
